

UNT SPRING PREVIEW

MARCH 4, 2023

Letter from the Event Manager

I am grateful for you! You woke up early on a Saturday, bravely faced Interstate 35, and have finally arrived at the University of North Texas for Preview, a university-wide open house event designed to introduce you to everything UNT has to offer. (Spoiler alert: it's a lot.)

Let me be the first person – or seventeenth, (our real UNT student volunteers are wonderful) – to welcome you to campus! As a proud, twice alumnus celebrating thirteen years at UNT this fall, I am so excited to have you with us today. There is something special about these 900 Mean Green acres in Denton, Texas and I cannot wait for you to discover it for yourself.

As the following pages illustrate, UNT Preview is the best and most comprehensive single-day visitor experience we offer. With so many presentations, fairs, information sessions, and tours to see, there is more to do today than there is time to do it. Don't worry – our helpful volunteers, staff, and faculty are here to help every step of the way. If you have a question or need a recommendation, look for a green nametag or a bright yellow vest.

Today you will meet many of the professors, counselors, advisors, librarians, chefs, groundskeepers, coordinators, administrators, mentors, and friends who will help you persist all the way to graduation day. We are your unwavering support network and never forget that we are only here because of you, our students. Whether this is your first time setting foot on a college campus or you are looking for a university that feels more caring, more connected, and more curious, you are welcome here.

Your visitor experience today is very important to us, so if you have any feedback, praise or constructive criticism to share about your time on campus, I would love to hear from you. I am the only winston@unt.edu!

Now turn the page and let's get your UNT Preview experience started. Go Mean Green!
